NEMA Hosts Expert-Led Session on US&R Deployments

NEMA recently welcomed subject matter experts from the State Urban Search and Rescue Alliance (SUSAR) and Michigan Task Force 1 to share first-hand insights into the operational realities of search and rescue (US&R) deployments.

Attendees gained valuable knowledge about the foundation of the Emergency Management Assistance Compact (EMAC) and the critical impact of deploying US&R resources across Member States.

The session featured an engaging discussion covering:

- The role and benefits of Mission Ready Packages (MRPs) in accelerating response times before incidents occur
- Field-tested best practices and tactical strategies drawn from past deployments
- Key lessons learned from Hurricane Helene that continue to shape future operations

Want to learn more about improving communication, enhancing field coordination, and developing mission-critical skillsets in your discipline?
